

MLSP 1010: Introduction to Medical Laboratory Sciences

Did you know that medical laboratory scientists play a crucial role in the detection, diagnosis and treatment of all diseases? Approximately 70% of all medical diagnostic and treatment decisions are based on the testing performed by laboratory science professionals. Learn more about the profession and the MLS program offered at the University of Minnesota Twin Cities. Register for MLSP 1010 today!

- One-credit, online course
- Offered Fall, Spring and Summer semesters
- S/N grading scale
- Learn about the major and career!

Visit our website at www.alliedhealth.umn.edu/mls to learn more about MLS courses, and to register for a virtual MLS Information Session. For additional questions, please contact cahpinfo@umn.edu.